Port Aransas Museum

Telling the Story of Our Little Beach Town

Crafted from a rescued early 20th century kit house, the Port Aransas Museum now preserves and presents the history of our island to all.

Exhibits, videos, historic photos and artifacts like the 4th order Fresnel lens that once lit the Aransas Pass Light house, serve to tell the story of our island community from the Karankawas forward. Copies of over 15,000 photos and documents pertaining to the history of Port Aransas have been acquired. All are available for viewing along with artifacts and oral histories of island locals and movies of Port Aransas in the 1920s.
